

Meet Michelle Andrada

Michelle Andrada, PCC has been coaching high-powered executives, business owners and various professionals in numerous industries for almost 20 years. She also has facilitated and co-facilitated numerous leadership and sales trainings, and is skilled in coordinating teams and various projects.

She has coached hundreds of people in empowering their leadership skills as well as in producing tangible, noticeable and exponential results in various life domains – often in the domains of personal empowerment, finances, revenue, relationships, health, and life fulfillment. She has always had a passion to support and empower people’s leadership and what drives her is her purpose and passion to serve others. Her extraordinary and relentless commitment to her clients and their results is apparent in her integrity, professionalism, as well as her long-standing client relationships.

Michelle specializes and has been trained in the field of Ontological Coaching and operates from the OEM (Ontological, Ecological, Mindful) model. She holds a PCC accreditation from the ICF, and is in the process of earning her Master Certified Coach credential (MCC). In addition to her experience in business development and coaching, Michelle’s background in Education has also supported her work as a Program Director for a non-profit organization called Playground of Dreams, which focuses on empowering our youth's creativity, authenticity, passion, responsibility within the low-income population in the Hollywood, CA area.

She has a strong passion among humanitarian and philanthropic efforts that involve empowering children, teens, healing, peace and the awakening of human consciousness. In addition to her private coaching practice ‘Revealing Your Brilliance’, Michelle also works as a Cognitive Behavioral Mental Health Coach with Lyra Health, Inc. and also serves as the Director of Admissions at Ideal Coaching Global.

“My sole purpose is to live my life in complete service. For me, I haven’t found a more fulfilling way to do so than empowering people’s greatness through coaching.”

~ Michelle Andrada